

Editorial Policy for Reviews

- 1) Reviews cover only books in the field of Hispanic language, translation, culture and literature. They should preferably be written in Spanish.
- 2) Review proposals must be approved by the review editors, who will take into account the value of the work being reviewed and its suitability for the journal. Once the proposal has been accepted, the full review should be uploaded via the OJS platform.
- 3) Reviews should include both a descriptive précis and critical comments. Purely descriptive reviews will not be accepted.
- 4) Any criticisms should be targeted solely at the book's content and contain no ad hominem criticisms of a book's author. Totally negative reviews will not be accepted.
- 5) The editors reserve the right to correct any essential typographical, spelling or grammatical errors without consulting authors.
